

DISTRIBUTING INFORMATION TO MANAGERS

The Issues You Face

Reports from payroll are difficult to obtain, customize, and distribute securely to managers located in multiple locations.

The Potential Consequences

Payroll data is not readily available or easily retrievable to keep track of labor distribution, job costs, and personnel data. This can lead to managers being uninformed about situations that could be critical to the operation of their departments. If overtime hours are not accounted for appropriately, it can lead to higher costs, lower quality and productivity, and even more employee turnover.

The Recommended Solution

With ezWEB you and your managers can easily access earning reports, cost analysis and labor distribution reports, date tracking reports, plus other custom reports that can be downloaded to Excel, PDF, or CSV formats. Proactively tracking and analyzing data such as hours reported by location, job, or department can alert managers to potential abuses such as too much overtime or underperforming departments.

Automatic report delivery via ezWEB Mail and the Manager's Dashboard gives managers the ability to receive specific reports on an automatic schedule. Then they can simply login to further explore the data behind the reports. ezWEB's online distribution of confidential information is safe, secure, and convenient. When your managers have access to the information they need to know regarding their departments, your company becomes more efficient and will gain a significant amount of time to focus on the core business of your company.

Striving toward a paperless workplace you save report storage space and therefore trees, helping to create a positive impact on the environment.
